

SCRIPT

1. Should you be able to remove things you've posted online?
 - How much control do you want on the things you post online?
2. Is it OK for your data to be collected and shared without you knowing it?
 - How should your data be collected and shared online?
3. Where do you go for support if something makes you upset or anxious online?
 - How should your data be collected and shared online?
4. Should young people know more about why digital technology can be compulsive?
 - What is one website, game or app you'd find it hard to live without?
 - How do young people become addicted to the internet?
 - How can you prevent online addiction?
5. What else should tech companies do to help kids control their digital lives?
 - What are tech companies interested in?
 - Do you think tech companies are interested in helping young people?
 - How can tech companies help young people control their digital lives?

What is one website, game or app you'd find it hard to live without?

How do young people become addicted to the internet?

How can you prevent online addiction?

